Are you concerned that the teen in your life is currently vaping, worried they may start, or simply want more information on the tobacco trend that's been making headlines recently?

We're here to support you.

Join us on Tuesday, January 28, 2020 at Pomona High School for "Start the Conversation: How to talk to young people about vaping."

This community dialogue is intended for parents/guardians, school staff, coaches, mentors, law enforcement, and anyone who wants to support healthy, happy youth. You'll gain important insight into the trends, health effects, and culture of youth vape use, as well as the opportunity to practice and develop valuable skills to have conversations with the youth in your life.

Space is limited and a free dinner will be provided, so please register via the link on the front of this flier by Friday, January 24, 2020.. This workshop and the skills we'll be building are intended for adult - not youth - participation. Unfortunately, we cannot provide child care at this time.
